

690V Server Rack Wholesale Warranty Period

What happens if I return a server product during the warranty period?

Returning a Server Product to your Purchase Site or an ASUS Authorized Service Provider during the warranty period does not automatically mean that it will be repaired free of charge. Upon receiving your product, the Service Centre reserves the right to check the validity of your warranty and your request for warranty service.

What is the warranty period for IT hardware?

The period of IT hardware is three(3) years. If the hardware incurs problems in material and workmanship under normal authorized use consistent with the product instructions within the warranty period, H3C, at its sole discretion, will either repair or replace the failure hardware.
