

The Juba Smart City project is still in its infancy. Although initial progress has been made in the fields of parking management and energy, it is still limited by the weak economic foundation...

With the global market projected to soar to $9.225 trillion by 2027, the need to understand and respond to these trends is not just strategic--it's urgent and essential for survival in the industry.

Explore Juba's real estate market in 2025 - from booming hotspots to emerging neighborhoods. Learn where to invest, current housing trends, and smart strategies for success.

try points into the grain market. Traders who buy from Uganda either make the trip there themselves or send a close relative or business partner. Some have a South Sudanese or Ugandan associate ...

He stated that the project focuses on promoting growth led by the private sector, diversifying income, creating jobs, alleviating congestion in Juba markets, and improving regional ...

There is a focus on expanding the road network throughout South Sudan, with specific emphasis on completing the Juba-Yambio and Juba-Yei-Kaya roads. The call for digital connectivity throughout ...

The job market in Juba, South Sudan, is evolving with a focus on rebuilding and economic development. Key industries such as agriculture, oil, and construction play a significant role in the city's economy.

Central Equatoria launches the $8m Gumbo Village Market to ease congestion, add 1,200 modern stalls and boost Juba's urban economy through a public-private venture.

Juba's economy is rapidly growing, driven by various sectors, including agriculture, trade, and services. The city acts as a primary commercial hub for the country, facilitating trade connections within South ...

The construction of Juba Modern Market under the AMVAT Project will have impacts on vendors currently trading in the current market. The impacts of the project will include both positive and ...

Web: <https://capturedmoments.co.za>